

Students' Choice Award 2022 - Jury statement

We voted for these three movies because of the new invaluable insight they gave us. While documentaries may be perceived as more instructive about the world we live in, fiction films help us reflect on the nature of our being. Movies that Matter combines fiction and nonfiction works that are both emotionally moving and intellectually stimulating, showing how important film is to our understanding of life. Little Palestine tells a very touching story. What makes art is the fact that it encapsulates human nature, Little Palestine does exactly this by giving a very touching portrayal of the less seen parts of the human condition.
